FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES

GENERAL

1. CURTIN UNIVERSITY RESEARCH FELLOWSHIPS AND MASTERS/DOCTORAL SCHOLARSHIPS
Curtin University is offering up to twelve prestigious Research Fellowships commencing in 2012, and approximately 150 Australian Postgraduate Awards (APA), Curtin University Postgraduate Scholarships (CUPS) and international scholarships for research master and doctoral students.

Fellowships

The call for applications in 2011, for commencement in 2012, refers to a targeted research-only Fellowship with two streams:

Early Career Research Fellowships (for suitably qualified applicants who received their PhD within the last five years*) and Senior Research Fellowships. Prospective Fellows must be able to demonstrate an exceptionally strong record of research, according to opportunity.

Fellowships will be for a period of up to four years as a research-only appointment. With the support of a School/Department in the University (i.e. an Enrolling Area), the Fellowships may be awarded for five years on the basis of an 80% research and 20% teaching appointment.

Applications are invited from excellent researchers in all disciplines. The Fellowships are not restricted to Australian citizens. Applicants must have completed a research doctoral degree.

Guidelines, Instructions to Applicants and access to the Online Application System are Available from http://research.curtin.edu.au/guides/fellowships.cfm.

Enquiries should be directed to: ord-fellowships@curtin.edu.au or by calling us on + 61 8 9266 3286.

Completed applications must be received by Monday 5th September 2011

* ECR are defined as being within five years of award of their PhD – taking into account career interruptions such as parental/carer responsibilities, and careers outside of academe.

Research Scholarships for International students

Applications are open for International Postgraduate Research Scholarships (IPRS) and Curtin International Postgraduate Research Scholarships (CIPRS) for students with exceptional research potential, planning to commence Master or Doctoral research degrees in any relevant area of study in 2012.

Both scholarships provide a tax-free living allowance of at least $22,860 pa (2011 value) and a fee exemption for the duration of the degree.

Applicants must be citizens or permanent residents of a country other than Australia or New Zealand and satisfy Curtin's entry requirements for the degree.

2. CRIMINOLOGY RESEARCH COUNCIL GRANTS NOW OPEN
The 2011 round of Criminology Research Grants is now open for submissions.

Grants are to support research on the causes, correction and prevention of criminal behaviour, and related matters. Criteria used to assess the policy relevance of submissions for funding include their:

- contribution to knowledge of crime trends which could be used for planning and resource allocation by government agencies;
- examination of an under-researched topic;
- relevance to a current or emerging serious criminal justice issue;
- benefit in developing new policies or procedures for dealing with the crime problem in question;
• benefit in devising crime reduction strategies;
• assistance in developing police policies or practices;
• benefit in devising legislative reform proposals;
• support and assistance in the development of existing work by government agencies;
• ability to inform training activities for criminal justice personnel;
• assistance to victim support activities or services;
• assistance in offender support activities or services; or their
• contribution to statistical data holdings.

Applications are to be submitted to the Office of Research and Development, along with a completed Research Project Application Tool (RPAT), preferably generated via SCRIPT, no later than Monday 8th August 2011.

For more information please see - http://www.criminologyresearchcouncil.gov.au/applications/

3. 2012 AUSTRALIA-HARVARD FELLOWSHIPS
Awards for researchers in science, medicine and engineering

Australia-Harvard Fellowships are aimed at innovators who are normally based at Harvard and have a persuasive plan to collaborate with Australia’s best science/technology researchers and educators. And similarly for Australian researchers to follow-up at Harvard.

The Fellowships are offered by Harvard Club of Australia Foundation which supports learned exchange between Harvard University and Australia. The Foundation seeks to attract applicants whose work will bring clear benefit to Australia as well as the University. We normally envisage a working visit of several months, during which we encourage Fellows to interact additionally with local educators and students. Some senior applicants favour a shorter visit, but one that enables them to take a primary role in a seminar or instructional course open to numbers of Australians who work in the applicant’s specialised field. Another option is the opportunity to undertake longer studies, for example, of sabbatical duration.

Australia-based applicants become eligible when they can demonstrate significant value in attending, say, the Harvard laboratory of a former inbound Fellow plus a strong intention to bring advances back to their Australian institutions.

Australia-Harvard Fellowship grants are donated to the host Australian institutions which then administer the funds on standard terms.

Applications are to be submitted to the Office of Research and Development, along with a completed Research Project Application Tool (RPAT), preferably generated via SCRIPT, no later than Monday 19th September 2011.

4. THE MARINE NATIONAL FACILITY (MNF) RESEARCH VESSEL – CALL FOR APPLICATIONS FOR USE OF THE VESSEL
The Marine National Facility (MNF) Research Vessel, which is owned and operated by CSIRO, supports blue-water research in Australia’s regional seas and oceans and is available to Australian marine researchers and their international collaborators.

The MNF is in a period of transition from RV Southern Surveyor to a new research vessel RV Investigator, which is due for delivery in May 2013. To facilitate forward planning, the MNF is following the recent call for applications on RV Southern Surveyor in 2012-2013 with a call for Expressions of Interest (EOI) on the new vessel RV Investigator for the financial years 2013-2014 (the commissioning year) and 2014-2015. The level of detail required for an EOI is less onerous than that required for a normal application for sea time. Supporting a scientific contingent of 40 people, RV Investigator will be a larger and more capable research vessel than RV Southern Surveyor. Operating from the tropics to the Antarctic ice edge and capable of voyages up to 55 days duration, RV Investigator will support multidisciplinary marine research projects in:

• physical, chemical and biological oceanography
• marine geosciences n fisheries n meteorology n environmental science
Call for Expressions of Interest 2013-2014 (commissioning year)
Australian marine researchers are invited to submit an EOI for use of RV Investigator during the period July 2013 to June 2014. Being the commissioning year, the MNF is looking for EOIs which propose a broad range of multi-disciplinary research to be carried out while testing the vessel and its built-in equipment. EOIs will be accepted for projects operating in all Australian regional seas and oceans, from the tropics to the Antarctic ice edge. EOIs for research near the vessel's home port of Hobart are also encouraged to provide scheduling options during the early commissioning stages.

Call for Expressions of Interest 2014-2015
Australian marine researchers are invited to submit an EOI for use of RV Investigator during the period July 2014 to June 2015. EOIs will be accepted for projects operating in all Australian regional seas and oceans, from the tropics to the Antarctic ice edge.

Closing Date for Expressions of Interest 2013-2014 and 2014-2015
The closing date for EOIs on RV Investigator in 2013-2014 and 2014-2015 will be Friday, 5 August 2011. It is not necessary to submit these applications via ORD.

5. THE AUSTRALIAN ACADEMY OF THE HUMANITIES – PUBLICATION SUBSIDY SCHEME
One of the aims of the Australian Academy of the Humanities is to advance knowledge of the Humanities by encouraging and supporting scholarship, and the pursuit of excellence, in the broad-ranging fields of the humanities.

In accordance with this aim, the AAH includes in its activities the Publication Subsidy Scheme to provide modest financial support of up to AU$3,000 for the publication of scholarly works of high quality in the humanities.

The scheme is designed to assist humanities scholars based in Australia. Both independent scholars and those working within an institution are eligible for the scheme. The AAH gives priority to works that require a subsidy for their viability as a publishing venture, or for the inclusion of essential items such as illustrations, photographs or maps. Support may, in some cases, be given for meritorious publications with some prospect of small-scale royalty and profit returns. Works with clear commercial prospects, however, will not be supported by the AAH. The AAH normally supports publications that have already been accepted by a reputable and refereed academic publisher. In the case of in-house publications (of conference papers etc.), external assessment of the work will be required. Although the scheme is generally intended for conventional, hardcopy publications, the AAH will consider applications for subsidy support of online works. Costs of research assistance, editorial work, translations and the preparation of indexes are not subsidised under the scheme.

The deadline for applications is 29 July 2011. It is not necessary to submit these applications via ORD.

For more information please see - http://www.humanities.org.au/Grants/PubSubs/PubSubs.htm

6. APPLICATIONS NOW OPEN FOR THE 2012 FULBRIGHT SCHOLARSHIPS
Applications are now open for a range of Fulbright Scholarships.

Valued at between USD30,00 and USD64,000 (please note that the ANSTO Senior Scholar Scholarship is valued at up to AUD40,000) Fulbright scholarships are open to Australian citizens to undertake research or study in the United States for 3 – 12 months. Scholarships can be started between 1 July 2012 and 30 June 2013.

As the largest and one of the most prestigious educational scholarship programs in the world, Fulbright provides unique opportunities for Australians to build long term research collaboration and linkages with U.S. universities.

Applications are open from any field of study to
- Postgraduates (to do research related to their Australian PhD. or enrol in a US degree);
- Postdoctoral,
- Professional and
- Senior Scholars.
Fulbright Postgraduate Scholarships
For promising postgraduate students to undertake study in any field, to complete their Australian PhD; or to support enrolment in a U.S. postgraduate program. This scholarship supports an 8-12 month program.

Fulbright Postdoctoral Scholarships
For successful researchers who have completed their PhD in the past five years to undertake postdoctoral research in the U.S. This scholarship supports a 3-12 month program.

Fulbright Senior Scholarships
For academics (generally at Associate Professor or Professor level) to undertake research or teaching at a U.S. institution. This scholarship supports a 3-6 month program.

Fulbright Professional Scholarships
For aspiring mid-career professionals in the private, public and not-for-profit sectors to undertake training or research programs in the U.S. The scholarship is also open to people based in academic institutions whose primary research focus is professional or industry based, i.e. CRC or research institutes. This scholarship supports a 3-4 month program.

Applicants from every state are also encouraged to consider the state/territory specific Fulbright Scholarships that have now been established.

Applications for post graduate scholarships should be submitted to the Scholarships office within ORD no later than Wednesday 24th August 2011.

Applications for any of the Postdoctoral, Senior or Professional scholarships are to be submitted to the Office of Research and Development, along with a completed Research Project Application Tool (RPAT), preferably generated via SCRIPT, no later than Wednesday 24th August 2011.

Australian universities are also encouraged to actively seek applications from Americans to be Fulbright Scholars in Australia in 2012. This supports American academics and postgraduates undertake research with Australian universities for 4 - 12 months.

For further information and application forms see www.fulbright.com.au

7. AUSTRALIAN ACADEMY OF THE HUMANITIES - THE HUMANITIES TRAVELLING FELLOWSHIPS
The Australian Academy of the Humanities is offering up to ten Fellowships to improve the capacity of Australian scholars to conduct research in all parts of the world. Travelling Fellowships of up to $4,000 for short-term - not less than two weeks - research abroad in the coming year, are available to permanent resident scholars in Australia and working in the field of the Humanities (The Arts; Asian Studies; Cultural and Communication Studies; Classics; Literature; European Languages and Cultures; History; Linguistics; Philosophy, Religion and the History of Ideas; Archaeology) who require access to resources held overseas.

The Humanities Travelling Fellowships Scheme is one of the Academy's most popular programmes, attracting several dozen applicants per year. The Scheme has operated in various forms since 1985, and has assisted over 143 scholars over that time.

The Humanities Travelling Fellowships also incorporate the 'Ernst Keller European Travelling Fellowships'.

The application form for the Humanities Travelling Fellowships is common to all Fellowships, and they are governed by the same rules, with the exceptions noted for each individual Fellowship below.

The Ernst Keller European Travelling Fellowships
The Australian Academy of the Humanities, through a substantial and very generous grant by Prof. Ernst Keller, who died in 2006, is offering two fellowships for scholars who need to travel to Europe to undertake research in 2011 in European topics. The recipients will be designated 'Ernst Keller Fellows'.

The Fellowships will provide a contribution to travelling costs of up to $4,000 for short-term research trips of not less than two weeks. This grant is available to scholars resident in Australia and working in the field of the Humanities who require access to resources held in Europe and are researching European topics or studies.
Preference will be given to early career researchers and researchers in German studies; however, researchers in other European topics are eligible for the Fellowship and are welcome to apply.

The David Philips Travelling Fellowships
The Australian Academy of the Humanities is pleased to announce the creation of the new David Philips Travelling Fellowship as part of its existing Humanities Travelling Fellowship programme. This award is named after the late Dr David Philips, historian and Associate Professor at the University of Melbourne, who died in 2008. The David Philips Travelling Fellowship has been made possible thanks to a very generous bequest to the Academy from his mother, Mrs Joan Philips.

The David Philips Travelling Fellowship is governed by the guidelines and conditions of the Academy’s Humanities Travelling Fellowship programme; it has however, some specific criteria, as detailed below:

Preference will be given to proposals that contribute to the advancement of knowledge of racial, religious or ethnic prejudice. Applications from researchers of South African history are particularly welcome; however, researchers with other areas of geographical interest are also encouraged to apply.

One David Philips Travelling Fellowship will be offered biennially, beginning in 2011. The amount awarded will be $4,000.

Applications are to be submitted to the Office of Research and Development, along with a completed Research Project Application Tool (RPAT), preferably generated via SCRIPT, no later than Friday 22nd July 2011.

8. SUPPORT FOR UP-AND-COMING INDIGENOUS RESEARCHERS
The Commonwealth government have announced a new funding scheme - Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Researchers’ Network. The press release from Minister Kim Carr is below:

Indigenous Australian researchers and research students can join a new Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Researchers’ Network, which will help them seize more research opportunities and advance their research in a supportive environment.

The Gillard Labor Government is providing up to $800,000 a year over four years — through the Australian Research Council — to establish and support the new network, which will build the capacity and leadership of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander researchers.

Announcing the Network, Innovation Minister Senator Kim Carr said Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people are under-represented among higher degree research student enrolments and completions.

“Only 0.5 per cent of students who complete PhDs in Australia are Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander. This highlights a need for strategic investment to support talented Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people to pursue research degrees and research careers,” Senator Carr said.

“The key to the success of this new Network lies in harnessing the leadership and guidance of successful, experienced university-based Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander researchers with their own strong track records.

“These experienced researchers are well placed to develop research programs that focus on Indigenous approaches to knowledge and also to mentor Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander research students and early-career researchers, improving their chances of staying on and completing their higher degree research and pursuing successful research careers.

“This Network will help us address one of the key needs identified in our Research Workforce Strategy — we need to ensure Australia enlists all of the research talent we can, including Indigenous Australians who offer a unique cultural perspective and knowledge base that nobody else can provide.”

The Network will bring together Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander researchers of all career stages and from a range of discipline areas, at research institutions across the country. It is being funded under the Australian Research Council’s Special Research Initiatives scheme.
A call for proposals for the new Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Researchers’ Network will occur in coming months, to be advised by the Australian Research Council.

For more information on the scheme and the Government’s support for Indigenous researchers, visit www.arc.gov.au and www.innovation.gov.au

9. Wilson Center Australian Scholar Program

The Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars is seeking scholars in Australia for the Wilson Center Australia Scholar Program. Successful applicants will spend time in residence at the Woodrow Wilson Center, in the heart of Washington, DC, where they will carry out advanced, policy-oriented research and writing designed to bridge the gap between the academic and policy communities. Candidates must be currently pursuing research on key public policy issues facing Australia, including U.S.-Australian relations and East Asian political, security, and economic issues.

While at the Wilson Center, Australian scholars will be expected to carry out a full schedule of rigorous research and writing based on the topic outlined in the research proposal submitted at the time of application. They will also be expected to participate in workshops, seminars, and conferences organized by the center's Asia Program, and in other ways to participate in the intellectual life of the Wilson Center and the larger community of Asia observers in Washington.

This is a residential scholarship. Successful applicants will spend two to four months in residence at the center. Scholars will be provided monthly stipend, plus partial help with transportation and health insurance expenses, and office or library carrel space available 24 hours a day. In addition, scholars will be provided with a part-time research assistant and Windows-based personal computers. Professional librarians provide access to the Library of Congress, university and special libraries in the area, and other research facilities.

Although scholars are responsible for locating their own housing in the Washington, D.C. area, the center provides written material to help facilitate the search process.

Applications for scholars seeking appointment are welcome at any time. Applicants should specify the precise time period for which they seek appointment, and should submit all application materials at least four to six months (eight to nine months is preferable) prior to the time they wish to take up residence at the center. Under normal circumstances, applicants will be informed of the disposition of their application within 60 days of the center receiving the completed application and supporting letters of recommendation.

If the applicant intends to manage the stipend via a Curtin cost centre then the application should be submitted to the Office of Research and Development, along with a completed Research Project Application Tool (RPAT), preferably generated via SCRIPT.

For more information please see - http://www.wilsoncenter.org/index.cfm?topic_id=1462&fuseaction=topics.item&news_id=168550

10. ANZ Charitable Trust Holsworth Wildlife Research Endowment (ATF)

The Holsworth Wildlife Research Endowment invites applications for postgraduate student research support in ecology, wildlife management, and natural history studies. Preference will be given to students at an early stage of a masters or doctoral program. Honours projects will normally not be supported.

Applications in the following three general areas are especially encouraged:

1. Field work on Australian native plants and animals to gain understanding of ecological interactions, population dynamics, animal behaviour, and species distribution

2. Conservation biology and biodiversity studies relating to the management of protected areas and rare or threatened species in Australia

3. Wildlife management relating to sport hunting, harvesting, pest control, management of non-game animals, and effect of land management on native species.

For more information on Research at Curtin please visit the research website www.research.curtin.edu.au
Grants of up to $7,500 will be awarded for the purchase of equipment, supplies, travel to study areas, and conferences. These grants will be renewable for a period of two to three years provided that the student maintains satisfactory progress.

Most universities set a three year limit on M.Sc. and Ph.D. student registration but some exceptions apply, especially for part-time students. For funding purposes the maximum grant for a project will be $22,500 and it will normally be made in three payments.

Travel to appropriate scientific conferences is encouraged but the budget item should not exceed $500 in each of the first two years of the project. In the final year, the student may budget up to $2,000 to attend an international conference. The total conference travel budget for the project is limited to $3,000.

Applications for the current round are to be submitted to the Office of Research and Development, along with a completed Research Project Application Tool (RPAT), preferably generated via SCRIPT, no later than Monday 25th July 2011.

HEALTH

1. HEALTHWAY SCHOLARSHIPS AND FELLOWSHIPS

Please note that the following fellowships and scholarships are now open:

Health Promotion Research Training Scholarships

Applications for the 2011 funding round are open and due at Healthway by 5pm on Friday 19 August 2011.

Indigenous Research Training Scholarship

Applications for the 2011 funding round are open and are due at Healthway by 5pm on Friday 19 August 2011.

Health Promotion Research Fellowship

Applications for the 2011 funding round are open and are due at Healthway by 5pm on Friday 19 August 2011.

Applications for the Scholarships are to be submitted to the Scholarships Office within ORD no later than Friday 12th August 2011.

Applications for Fellowships are to be submitted to the Office of Research and Development, along with a completed Research Project Application Tool (RPAT), preferably generated via SCRIPT, no later than Friday 12th August 2011.

2. CANCER COUNCIL WESTERN AUSTRALIA SUZANNE CAVANAGH EARLY CAREER INVESTIGATOR (ECI) GRANTS

The call for applications for the 2012 research funding round is now open.

Named to honour and remember the commitment and drive of a much respected and loved colleague, wife, mother and grandmother, Suzanne Cavanagh. Suzanne always believed in stewardship and supporting the next generation, her vision assisted many young people to grow and develop beyond their own expectations.

The Cancer Council Western Australia Suzanne Cavanagh Early Career Investigator Grants were developed along the same philosophy and aim to help talented researchers at the early stage of their career develop the skills and track record necessary to become competitive in national research grant processes.
Applications for Fellowships are to be submitted to the Office of Research and Development, along with a completed Research Project Application Tool (RPAT), preferably generated via SCRIPT, no later than Friday 22nd July 2011.

More information is available at - http://www.cancerwa.asn.au/research/funding/eci/

3. APEX FOUNDATION FOR RESEARCH INTO INTELLECTUAL DISABILITY
The foundation invites applications from individuals or research teams for grants in support of new or existing research projects. Grants may be awarded to workers in any discipline (medical, educational, epidemiological, psychological, biological, sociological, etc.) which is concerned with the causes, diagnosis, prevention or treatment of intellectual disability and allied conditions.

Other factors being equal, preference will be given to research projects which may relate to causes and/or prevention of these conditions. Grants may only be awarded for research to be carried out within the Commonwealth of Australia.

Applications for Fellowships are to be submitted to the Office of Research and Development, along with a completed Research Project Application Tool (RPAT), preferably generated via SCRIPT, no later than Friday 22nd July 2011.

For more information and application forms please see - http://www.afrid.com.au/useful-forms
